

Rediscovering the versatility of the college system - an opportunity for the industry

Sylvain Poirier, Ph.D. CCNB Development and Innovation Branch

In addition to training people working in the mining industry, the CCNB offers customized and on-line training to maintain these human resources' training current, here and abroad. There is also an applied research and innovation potential whose development can be oriented, through partnerships, according to the needs of your industry.